Organosilicone Surfactants

- There are various surface active chemicals, which are called trisiloxane surfactants, currently used in agriculture industry.

- Organosilicone surfactants are preferred as it prolongs the period of time between pesticide applications and reduces your expenses.
Organosilicone Surfactants

✓ It can be used mixed with all agricultural pesticides, plant growth regulators and foliar fertilizers and has no toxic effects on living organisms like humans, animals and plants.

✓ It is possible to lay down some general requirements for a organosilicone surfactants with good functional properties:

- Lower surface tension than conventional surfactants
- Promotes spray volume reduction
- Wash off prevention
- Improves spray coverage
- Increased fungicide and herbicide effectiveness
- Natural penetration effect
Organosilicone Surfactants

✓ We serve wide range of organosilicone surfactants to the agriculture industry as following;

✓ High Penetration Superspreading Wetting Agent
  ✓ Lavidasil® PSWA 7077 spray adjuvant is a 100% polyether modified trisiloxane, which has been used to enhance the performance of wetting, spreading and penetration of agricultural chemicals. Lavidasil® PSWA 7077 is nonionic in nature, making it useful with a broad range of agrochemical formulations.

✓ Superspreading Wetting Agent
  ✓ Lavidasil® SWA 4884 superspreading wetting agent, which has been developed to improve the wetting and spreading of agricultural chemicals, may be used as a component in agrochemical formulations. Lavidasil® SWA 4884 provides very low surface energy, rapid spreading and wetting.
  ✓ Lavidasil® WA 4877 which has been specially formulated as a spreading agent for agriculture industry, provides low surface energy, spreading and wetting.

✓ We offer the best solutions and technical support to the our customers.
We Love the Chemistry 😊
